NEW PUBLICATIONS.

HAGAR, THE MARTYR; or Passion and Reality. A Tale of The North and South. By Mrs. H. Marion Stephens. Boston: [illegible] & Co. Chicago: Keen & Lee, 148 Lake St.

Of what particular circle or clique in the community the author of the book belongs, as to the bright particular star, we know not; but we do know that we should be very unwilling to introduce our sister or wife within it. A woman who could write such a book [illegible]. It is a book without a single virtue and a thousand faults—it is more loose in its morality—more sensual and demoralizing in its tone—more vulgar and slang-like in its style—more deficient in elegance, finish, or even ordinary concentration of plot—more voluptuous and licentious in its descriptions, than even three-fourths of the yellow covered literature of the day.

As a literary production it is below criticism. It is not worthy of a dissection or an analysis. Its situations are all impossible—its characters are all either monsters of evil and Griffin like dragons, or paragons of virtue and angels of light. Its plot is a mixture of heterogeneous materials, jumbled together, as it were, and thrown into print head-foremost, without regard to rhyme or reason. Her ladies all talk slang of the lowest description—her heroines are Magdalens and women of pleasure—her heroes rowdies, or fire hunters. If we thought for a moment, believe that the pictures she draws are faithful portraitures of American society, we should indeed despair of the American Republic. [illegible] compelled to believe, however, that they only exist in her diseased and filthy imagination, we can only lament that even one woman can be found in decent society, who thinks of such things. Keen & Lee 148 Lake St., have it for sale.

[illegible]

The author of this book informs us that he wrote it with the intent [illegible] of producing something that all those who read for amusement merely, would find acceptable. He has certainly done this, and we think he achieved something better than this. His story is a pleasant, well told, and simple one. It does not tire one to read it—it glides along pleasantly—smoothly, and for the most part joyfully. And yet there is a lesson to be gleaned from the book—a good, wholesome, [illegible] lesson. We like the volume much.

D. B. Cooke & Co., 129 Lake street, have it for sale.

THE MAY FLOWER, and Miscellaneous Writings. By Harriet Beecher Stowe. [illegible] Boston: Phillips, Sampson & Co. Chicago: D. B. Cooke & Co., 129 Lake street.

This is a very beautiful volume. Its typography and binding are unexcelled. The mere fact of its author being Mrs. Stowe would have insured it a great run, without these accessories. The volume consists of a number of sketches of New England life, which were published some years ago, and which are now entirely out of date, together with some additional sketches and poems, which have also been previously published. They all bear the mark of that genius which made its master piece in Uncle Tom's Cabin, and will doubtless be "as good as new" to the greater portion of the reading community. The book is embellished by a portrait of Mrs. S. which, if correct, relieves us from an impression which we had in some manner obtained, that the personal appearance of the authoress was not prepossessing. As represented by this portrait, she is very lovely.

D. [illegible] & Co. 129 Lake street have the book.

ing to [illegible] her that he was forced to [illegible] against his will, he finally succeeded in accomplishing her ruin. After a few months have elapsed, she can no longer conceal her shame, she flies, with the assistance of her betrayer, to Danvers, where she shortly after dies.

These incidents are made known to the reader by a series of letters purporting to have been written by the various parties of the tale, and without possessing any very great merit in any line, they may be interesting enough to cause a good sale of the book. The publishers deserve this for the handsome style in which the book is printed and bound.

THE CONTEMPT CASE.

The case of the People of the State of Illinois ex relatione Horace F. Waite vs the Sheriff of Cook county, was finally decided in the Circuit Court yesterday morning [April 17.)

JUDGE MORRIS delivered the opinion of the Court as follows:

HORACE F. WAITE, Esq., applied to this court by petition for a writ of habeas corpus, requiring the Sheriff of Cook Co., to bring up the body of said Waite, alleging that he was unlawfully restrained of his liberty, by said sheriff. By the sheriff's return, it appears that said Waite stands committed to his custody, for "Contempt of Court," by virtue of an order of the Recorder's Court of this city, reciting that he had been found guilty and fined ten dollars for contempt, in using "improper language" to said Court, and "refusing to obey the orders" and that he stands committed for said contempt till said fine be paid.

Mr. WAITE replies, saying in substance that the process or order aforesaid is informal and insufficient as he believes, that the court exceeds its jurisdiction and powers as he believes, that the order was issued in a case and under circumstances not warranted by law and without jurisdiction, that he was not guilty of contempt as he believes, and that the charges against him of contempt of court are untrue, unless it was a contempt of court to insist upon his right to argue his case to the jury more than five minutes. And upon this statement of the case, the petitioner proposes to call witnesses to prove the allegation of his reply to be true, in fact to try the case de novo.

This is objected to by the States Attorney, and the question is, can this court re-try the question of contempt, that has already been decided by the Recorder?

By the common law and statute of England, you were not allowed to go behind the conviction to re try the question of contempt of court, especially when the proceedings were had in a court of record. Besides it is evident that the English statute especially excepted from its operation all persons convicted of any offence or those who may be in execution. So far then as the English law is concerned the petition is clearly within the exception. This court can undoubtedly enquire into the cause of detention and commitment, but on finding that cause to be a judgement for contempt of court decided by a court of record, is not that, showing cause sufficient? especially where the revision of such a judgement or order is withheld by law from this court. A judgement in its nature concludes the subject on which it is rendered and pronounces the law of the case, and that no other court can revise it, unless an appeal or writ of error be given by law. An appeal or writ of error in criminal cases lies from the Recorder's court to the Supreme court and not to this court.

I am compelled by force of authority to say that such a conviction is conclusive on this and all other courts, except the supreme court of this state. The Recorder had jurisdiction over this subject matter, and having decided the same, it ends all inquiry as to its merits, unless the facts be stated on which the law is pronounced, which may show in themselves that no contempt was in fact committed, as it is well said that it is not everything that is said or done in court that amounts to contempt of court.

Again: If we have no power to examine this proceeding on an appeal, writ of error or certiorari, to revise the same—would it not appear strange, if under color of a writ to liberate the prisoner from an alleged unlawful imprisonment, we should [illegible]

Recorder's Court.

H. S. WILSON, RECORDER—P. A. HOYNE, CLERK.

TUESDAY, April 17, 1855.

The People vs James McGowan and Francis Elwright. Larceny. The prisoners, who are both young men, were charged with stealing a coat from the Foster House, the property of Moses H. Baxter, a guest at the house. The prisoners were servants of the Hotel. It was proved that the coat was found in their possession at the pawnbroker's shop of Mr. Lazarus, where they went to dispose of it. McGowan wore the coat at the time.

The prisoners were defended by separate lawyers. Each one, in defending his client, endeavored to show that his client's comrade was the guilty party.

Mr. Kilpatrick conducted the case on the part of the People, and presented it to the jury in a brief and able address.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed the term of imprisonment at one year each.

The People vs. John Dixon. Assault with intent to commit larceny. The prisoner was arrested by Lt. Cutler at the circus on Friday evening last, in company with four pick pockets and was charged with attempting to extract the porte-monnaie from the pocket of a man who was in the act of paying for his ticket.

A witness testified that he had in his pocket a purse containing some ninety dollars, and when he was paying for his ticket he felt a hand in his pocket, that he immediately caught hold of the hand and found it was the prisoner's, that he held him till the police came and arrested him.

Lt. Cutler testified that he had seen the prisoner in company with four men who made several rushes into the crowd endeavoring to pick pockets, that he found the prisoner in the group of the first witness, and arrested him.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed the term of imprisonment at three years.

Thus far fifteen persons have been sent to the penitentiary during the term.

The people vs Lazarus, charged with receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be such. The jury acquitted the accused.

Entries on the Complaint Book.

By D. L. Chandler: The alley between La Salle and Wells streets is not only obstructed, but is perfectly impassable for carriages of any kind. I would respectfully request the Street Commissioner to view the premises and have the earth and rubbish removed, so that carriages may pass as formerly.

By Henry M. Smith: The sidewalk on Van Buren street, between Clark and Buffalo, is in a broken and dangerous condition, some portions of it being entirely missing. The street at this point is in an impassable condition by a stoppage of the sewers in both directions.

By James H. Haynes: Complaineth that he was refused a license for four grain wagons [illegible] eight dollars, four to officers who receive their pay from the City Treasurer. Mayor's remark: This complaint states what is untrue; only one vehicle can in any instance be included in one license.

By E. P. Ballou: That the drain in front of the gas works is obstructed, and from thence East to Wells street, the ditch is filled with filthy water and tar, making the air very offensive.

By M. B. Wilder: That cows are now and have been for the last six days, occupying Dearborn Park, the fence being down. I ask for an ordinance fining persons for pasturing their cows there, as they have done heretofore.

By George Gleason: That Lake street, between Wabash Avenue and State street, is in such a miserable condition that from ten to twelve wagons per day are stuck or broken in it.

The People vs George W. Clark. Larceny. The prisoner was charged with stealing some $300 from a man at the circus. The money was found concealed on the person of his wife. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and fixed the term of imprisonment at eight years.

In the case of his wife, tried with him, the jury were unable to agree.

THEATRE.

This evening a new drama, in four acts, entitled "Two Loves and a Life," will be presented for the first time in this city. It is always a pleasure to see a new play, and the attraction to see this played, as it will be by the talented artists Mr. Farren and Miss Howard, will be irresistible. [illegible]

The engagement of Mr. Farren and Miss Howard is drawing to a close, and those who wish to see them should not lose this opportunity.

Fourth of July.

The celebration of the Fourth of July was brought before the Council on Monday evening by the communication of a man in Ohio, who proposed to come here and give a balloon ascension in the afternoon, and an exhibition of fireworks in the evening, provided $500 will be paid him, on condition of his exhibition being a successful one, no part of the money to be paid till after the exhibition.

Mr. Stickney moved to appropriate $150 as a beginning and thought the citizens would raise the rest.

Several of the Aldermen thought that as the Maine Law was on the point of passing, and, as a large portion of our citizens would be thereby deterred from celebrating the day in their usual way, that it would be well to make this appropriation for their rational amusement.

The motion however was lost.

For the Tribune.

SUNDAY LIQUOR SELLING.

I write to ask through your paper why it is that the Law is not strictly put in force to stop the selling of liquors on Sundays in the Saloons of our city. To oblige Saloon keepers to keep their blinds up to the windows on Sunday don't stop their selling say the low liquor—for all those who want it to drink, know very well where to go and get it; and they know, too, all the side doors that enters all the doggeries of this city, and it is my candid opinion that there is as much liquor drunk now in this city on Sundays as there ever was, but it is done in a sly way. I wish to ask if the Police can't be as sly as the Saloon-keepers, or plan some way, to catch them and bring them to justice, who in their sly way, are trampling under foot the laws of our city on the Sabbath day. There are a great many doggeries in this city that are out of the limits of either the day or night Police. I would here mention two or three on Canal St., west side, between Polk and Mather Sts., near Polk, which are entirely out of the Police limits day and night, and there are no worse places in this city than these very places that I have just mentioned. But cannot the Law reach them? I think it can. I would here suggest a plan; it is simply this: that the Mayor or Common Council appoint a sufficient number of men in addition to our Police, whose duty shall be to act on Sundays alone in hunting out those men who feel disposed to violate our laws and bring them to justice; because these doggery men are sly, there is no use saying we can't stop them. There is no such word in the Dictionary as 'can't.' When I was a boy I never was allowed to say "can't" till I had tried. Let the city authorities try, and try it thoroughly too, before they say "can't." We don't like to give up the ship yet—let us try that.

A [illegible] AND CITIZEN.

Rome was not built in a day, and it is not possible to effect a complete reformation in the matter of Sabbath liquor selling at once. It is a work of time and labor. Much has already been done since the new city government went into power, and much is now being done. We know that it is the firm intention of our Government to entirely suppress the traffic in liquor during the Sabbath, and we have faith to believe that they will ultimately triumph. The suggestion of our correspondent appears to be a good one. Will the Mayor and Council consider this matter?

POLICE COURT—Justice [illegible]

James Lane, obstructing sidewalk, fined $3.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner Brack held an inquest yesterday on the body of a male infant, found dead at the ferry near the Lake.

Music With Charity, &c.

[At the meeting of the Council on Monday evening, the license of the Metropolitan Opera Troupe, performing at Warner's Hall, was fixed at $6.00 a week. In the course of the discussion on the subject, the proprietors were highly complimented for the enterprise and public spirit they display, in employing a band of music to play at the balcony in the evenings.

In many cities, appropriations are made for the payment of bands of music to play for the entertainment of the citizens, and although we do not advocate such an appropriation at present, it is certainly no more than right to encourage, in all proper ways, the performances by the band employed by the Metropolitan Opera Troupe.

Rescued from the Ice.

We learn that the brig Fanny Gardner and the Bark St. Mary both loaded with Railroad iron—one for the Chicago and Galena, and the other for the Fox River Valley Road—have been rescued from the ice in Lake Erie, by Capt. Vanderveer of this city, and brought into Detroit in safety. They both laid [illegible] winter.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed the term of imprisonment at one year each.

The People vs. John Dixon. Assault with intent to commit larceny. The prisoner was arrested by I. A. Cutler at the circus on Friday evening last, in company with four pick pockets and was charged with attempting to extract the pocketbook from the pocket of a man who was in the act of paying for his ticket.

A witness testified that he had in his pocket a purse containing some ninety dollars, and when he was paying for his ticket he felt a hand in his pocket, that he immediately caught hold of the hand and found it was the prisoner's, that he held him till the police came and arrested him.

I. A. Cutler testified that he had seen the prisoner in company with four men who made several rushes into the crowd endeavoring to pick pockets, that he found the prisoner in the grasp of the first witness and arrested him.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed the term of imprisonment at three years.

Thus far fifteen persons have been sent to the penitentiary during the term.

The people vs Lansdown, charged with receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be such. The jury acquitted the accused.

Entries on the Complaint Book.

By D. L. Chandler: The alley between La Salle and Wells streets is not only obstructed, but is perfectly impassable for carriages of any kind. I would respectfully request the Street Commissioner to view the premises and have the earth and rubbish removed, so that carriages may pass as formerly.

By Henry M. Smith: The sidewalk on Van Buren street, between Clark and Buffalo, is in a broken and dangerous condition, some portions of it being entirely missing. The street at this point is in an impassable condition by a continuance of the sewers in both directions.

By James H. Haynes: Complaineth that he was refused a license for four grain wagons included in one license, unless he paid eight dollars fees to officers who receive their pay from the City Treasurer. Mayor's remark: This complaint states what is untrue; only one vehicle can in any instance be included in one license.

By E. P. Bolles: That the drain in front of the gas works is obstructed, and from thence East to Wells street, the ditch is filled with filthy water and tar, making the air very offensive.

By M. B. Wilder: That cows are now and have been for the last six days, occupying Dearborn Park, the fences being down. I ask for an ordinance fining persons for pasturing their cows there, as they have done heretofore.

By George Glanner: That Lake street, between Wabash avenue and State street, is in such a miserable condition that from ten to twelve wagons per day are sunk or broken in it.

The People vs George W. Clark. Larceny. The prisoner was charged with stealing some $200 from a man at the circus. The money was found concealed on the person of his wife. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and fixed the term of imprisonment at eight years.

In the case of his wife, tried with him, the jury were unable to agree.

The Vestry is now constituted thus:

H. W. Zimmerman—Treasurer.
J. W. Clickering,
E. H. Warner—Secretary.

F. B. Peck, Geo. A. Meech,
A. E. Neely, Hiram Wheeler.

Theatre.

This evening a new drama, in four acts, entitled "Two Loves and a Life," will be presented for the first time in this city. It is always a pleasure to see a new play, and the attraction in this piece will be increased by the admirable acting of Mr. Farren and Miss Howard, will be unusually strong. The burlesque extravaganza "Genevieve" will also be repeated to-night. It is very amusing.

The engagement of Mr. Farren and Miss Howard is drawing to a close, and those who wish to see them should not lose this opportunity.

Extortion upon Travelers.

The Mayor yesterday revoked the license of the driver of a hackney coach for making an extortionate charge. Mayor Boone is determined to break up this practice in this way, and the sooner it is known, the better for all parties concerned.

New Passenger Cars.

We had an opportunity yesterday afternoon of seeing three of the handsome Passenger Cars as ever entered our city. They were from the establishment of Sherman, Haskell & Co., at Michigan City, Ind., and are intended to run on the Rock Island Railroad, having been purchased by that Company. We have often had occasion to speak of the passenger cars manufactured by this firm, and the fact that they find a ready market here for all they can manufacture, is as [illegible] that a [illegible] establishment would want in merit. On the Michigan Southern, Galena and Chicago Union, Chicago and Rock Island, Chicago and North Indiana, and New Albany and Salem Railroads can be found cars of all kinds from the manufactory of Sherman, Haskell & Co. Their establishment, being located in the midst of a timber region, affords them abundant facilities for obtaining the best of wood, and they use none but the best quality, and that fully seasoned. One of the [illegible] cars of which we speak, went out yesterday on the Rock Island road, and the others will be on the route as soon as they are properly lettered. Those who have an opportunity of riding in these vehicles will enjoy with their easy motion, beauty of finish, and the degree of thorough workmanship which distinguish them.

Fourth of July.

The celebration of the Fourth of July was brought before the Council on Monday evening, on the communication of a man in Ohio, who proposed to come here and give a balloon ascension in the afternoon, and an exhibition of fireworks in the evening, provided $500 will be paid him, on condition of his exhibition being a successful one, no part of the money to be paid till after the exhibition.

Mr. Stickney moved to appropriate $100 as a beginning and thought the citizens would raise the rest.

Several of the Aldermen thought that as the Maine Law was on the point of passing, and as a large portion of our citizens would be thereby debarred from celebrating the day in their usual way, that it would be well to make this appropriation for their rational amusement.

The motion however was lost.

For the Tribune.

SUNDAY LIQUOR SELLING.

I write to ask through your paper why it is that the Law is not strictly put in force to stop the selling of liquors on Sundays in the Saloons of our city. To oblige Saloon-keepers to keep their blinds up to the windows on Sunday don't stop their selling any the less liquor—for all those who want it to drink, know very well where to go and get it; and they know, too, all the side doors that enters all the doggeries of this city, and it is my candid opinion that there is as much liquor drank now in this city on Sundays as there ever was, but it is done in a sly way. I wish to ask if the Police cant be as sly as the Saloon-keepers, or plan some way to catch these men and bring them to justice, who, in their sly way, are trampling under foot the laws of our city on the Sabbath day. There are a great many doggeries in this city that are out of the limits of either the day or night Police.—I would here mention two or three on Canal St., west side, between Polk and Mather Sts., near Polk, which are entirely out of the Police limits day and night, and there are no worse places in this city than these very places that I have just mentioned. But cannot the Law reach them?—I think it can. I would here suggest a plan.—It is simply this: that the Mayor or Common Council appoint a sufficient number of men in addition to our Police, whose duty shall be to act on Sundays alone in hunting out these men who feel disposed to violate our laws and bring them to justice; because these doggery men are sly, there is no use saying we can't stop them. There is no such word in the Dictionary as 'cant.' When I was a boy I never was allowed to say "can't" till I had tried. Let the city authorities try, and try it thoroughly too, before they say "can't." We don't like to give up the ship yet—let us try first.

A Subscriber and Citizen.

—Rome was not built in a day, and it is not possible to effect a complete reformation in this matter of Sabbath Liquor selling at once. It is a work of time and labor. Much has already been done since the new city government went into power, and much is now being done. We know that it is the firm intention of our Government to entirely suppress the traffic in liquor during the Sabbath, and we have faith to believe that they will ultimately triumph. The suggestion of our correspondent appears to be a good one. Will the Mayor and Council consider this matter?

POLICE COURT—Justice Milliken.

Tuesday, April 17, 1855.

John Fora, running without a badge, fined $5,00.
Geo. Lent, fighting, fined $5.
Lewis Zenger, fighting, fined $5.
Geo. Brown, disorderly, fined $10.
Wm. H. Wilson, drunk, fined $3.
George Swineforth, for allowing dead horses to remain within the city, fined $25.
H. Bowe, obstructing the sidewalk, fined $3.
Wm. H. Smith, overcharging, fined $5.
James Lane, obstructing sidewalk, fined $3.
Frederick Smith, obstructing street, fined $3.
C. D. Spaide, obstructing the river with a canal boat, fined $25.00.
H. Tills, fast driving, fined $3.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner Beach held an inquest yesterday on the body of a male infant, found dead at the ferry near the Lake.

Music Hath Charms, &c.

At the meeting of the Council on Monday evening, the license of the Metropolitan Opera Troupe, performing at Warner's Hall, was fixed at $6,00 a week. In the course of the discussion on the subject, the proprietors were highly complimented for the enterprise and public spirit they display, in employing a band of music to play at the balcony in the evenings.

In many cities, appropriations are made for the payment of bands of music to play for the entertainment of the citizens, and although we do not advocate such an appropriation at present, it is certainly no more than right to encourage, in all proper ways, the performances by the band employed by the Metropolitan Opera Troupe.

Rescued from the Ice.

We learn that the brig Fanny Gardner and the Schr. St. Mary both loaded with Railroad iron—one for the Chicago and Galena, and the other for the Fox River Valley Road—have been rescued from the ice in Lake Erie, by Capt. Bonderville of this city, and brought into Detroit in safety. They both laid in the ice all winter.
